Eastman School of Music

Founded in 1921, the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music is consistently ranked as one of the best music schools in the world. With more than 25 ensembles and innumerable performing opportunities, Eastman students find their individual voices – in instrumental music, contemporary music, opera, jazz, music theory, history, and more.

Eastman is an amazing community of artists, performers, composers, and scholars who are committed to preparing students for meaningful lives in music. Each year about 280 students enroll, selected from more than 2,100 applicants. The students are guided by more than 95 full-time faculty members including numerous GRAMMY award winners.

The School's tradition of excellence in performance is reflected in its numerous renowned ensembles. Students may perform the full spectrum of music: from opera to jazz, from medieval music to contemporary pieces composed by their fellow students. Eastman students are also encouraged to take courses in multiple disciplines to become well-rounded, scholarly musicians.

Warner Graduate School of Education

The Warner School offers master's and doctoral degree programs in teaching and curriculum, counseling, human development, school leadership, higher education, educational policy, program evaluation, health professions education, online teaching, and applied behavior analysis.

At the Margaret Warner Graduate School of Education and Human Development, professors are passionate about preparing committed practitioners and scholars who are driven to improve the human condition by becoming leaders in education and human development.

Successful Warner students do more than acquire professional credentials. They are people whose lifelong commitment is to inspire minds, invigorate a profession, and provide thoughtful and creative leadership. Graduates become leaders in their schools and communities.

The School of Nursing

Established in 1925, the School of Nursing at the University of Rochester was among the first schools of nursing in the United States to offer a university-based education to nurses. It gained national recognition in later years for its hallmark concept of unification, symbolizing the inseparability of education, research, and practice. Guided by this philosophy, School of Nursing programs emphasize excellence in scientific learning, discovery, and nursing care.

The School of Nursing offers Baccalaureate degrees in nursing; Master's Nurse Practitioner, Nurse Educator, and Leadership degrees; and doctoral programs leading to Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) and PhD degrees; as well as courses and certificate programs in its Center for Lifelong Learning.

What do you like to do?

UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER TRADITIONS

As an ONCAMPUS student you will be introduced to a wide variety of activities and experiences at the University of Rochester. Much of the American university experience is rooted in traditions, and these traditions create a community that continues to tie students to their schools throughout their whole lives.

Boar's Head Dinner

This winter feast began in 1934 and has been one of the most beloved experiences ever since. A trumpeter calls to begin the meal, and each course is celebrated by songs and other performances.

Clock Tower Superstition

The lore at the University of Rochester says that walking underneath the clock tower in Dandelion Square will prevent you from graduating on time. Though a superstition, most students decide to avoid the risk and walk around the clock, just in case.

Wilson Day

Celebrated in the fall, Wilson Day is a day of service when the whole Rochester campus comes together to participate in community projects.

SPORTS AND GREEK LIFE

Sports

There are three levels of sport organizations at the University of Rochester: Varsity, Intramural, and Club. Depending on skill level, there is a sport organization for everyone who wants to participate. The varsity teams at Rochester are Division III in the NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association) and cheering on the Yellowjackets is a popular activity on campus.

Greek Life

About 25% of University of Rochester undergraduate students join fraternities and sororities. With 33 different organizations on campus, there are many options to choose from. Fraternities and sororities are not just organizations for socializing; they are often organized around academic interests, community service, or common heritage.

Student Organizations

There are 287 student organizations at the University of Rochester. Students with interests in ballet, astronomy, Quidditch, linguistics, and even mariachi can either join an existing club, or create their own. Getting involved in the campus's activities is one of the best ways to get a complete American university experience.

LIVING IN ROCHESTER

Rochester is New York State's 3rd largest city. Located in upstate New York, Rochester is on the shores of the Great Lake Ontario. It is just a five hour drive to New York City and three hours from Toronto, Canada.

Rochester experiences all four seasons, but it is known best for its beautiful winters. The University of Rochester has a network of underground tunnels for students to travel warmly between classes.

Rochester is well known as the home of George Eastman, founder of Eastman Kodak. His legacy of innovation remains, and Rochester continues to lead the industry in imaging technologies and optics.

Because of this strong tech tradition, Rochester was one of the 35 innovation hubs in the nation, according to Atlantic Magazine.

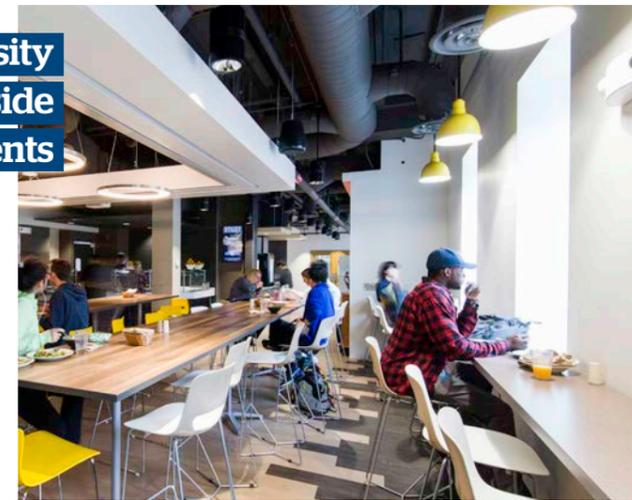

Rochester is known as the "Flower City"

HOUSING & DINING

University of Rochester housing is available to all undergraduate students, and is even quite popular for graduate students. The residence halls (also called dormitories or "dorms" for short) are close-knit communities for students, located right on campus.

At University of Rochester, all freshmen and sophomores are required to live on campus (The Eastman School of Music also requires on-campus housing for all juniors). All freshmen students at the University of Rochester are housed together, along with their resident advisors (upperclassmen at the school).

Live on a university campus alongside American students

As a University of Rochester ONCAMPUS student, you too will be living on campus and experiencing the culture of this prestigious school. This is the ideal way to immerse yourself in the American university experience as you are preparing your applications.

There are a variety of meal plans available on campus, depending on your dietary needs. From pizza, to sushi, to coffee, to lunch on the run, there are many options to choose from for every meal. The University of Rochester tries to source as much food as possible locally, and 56% of the food served on campus is sourced from New York State.

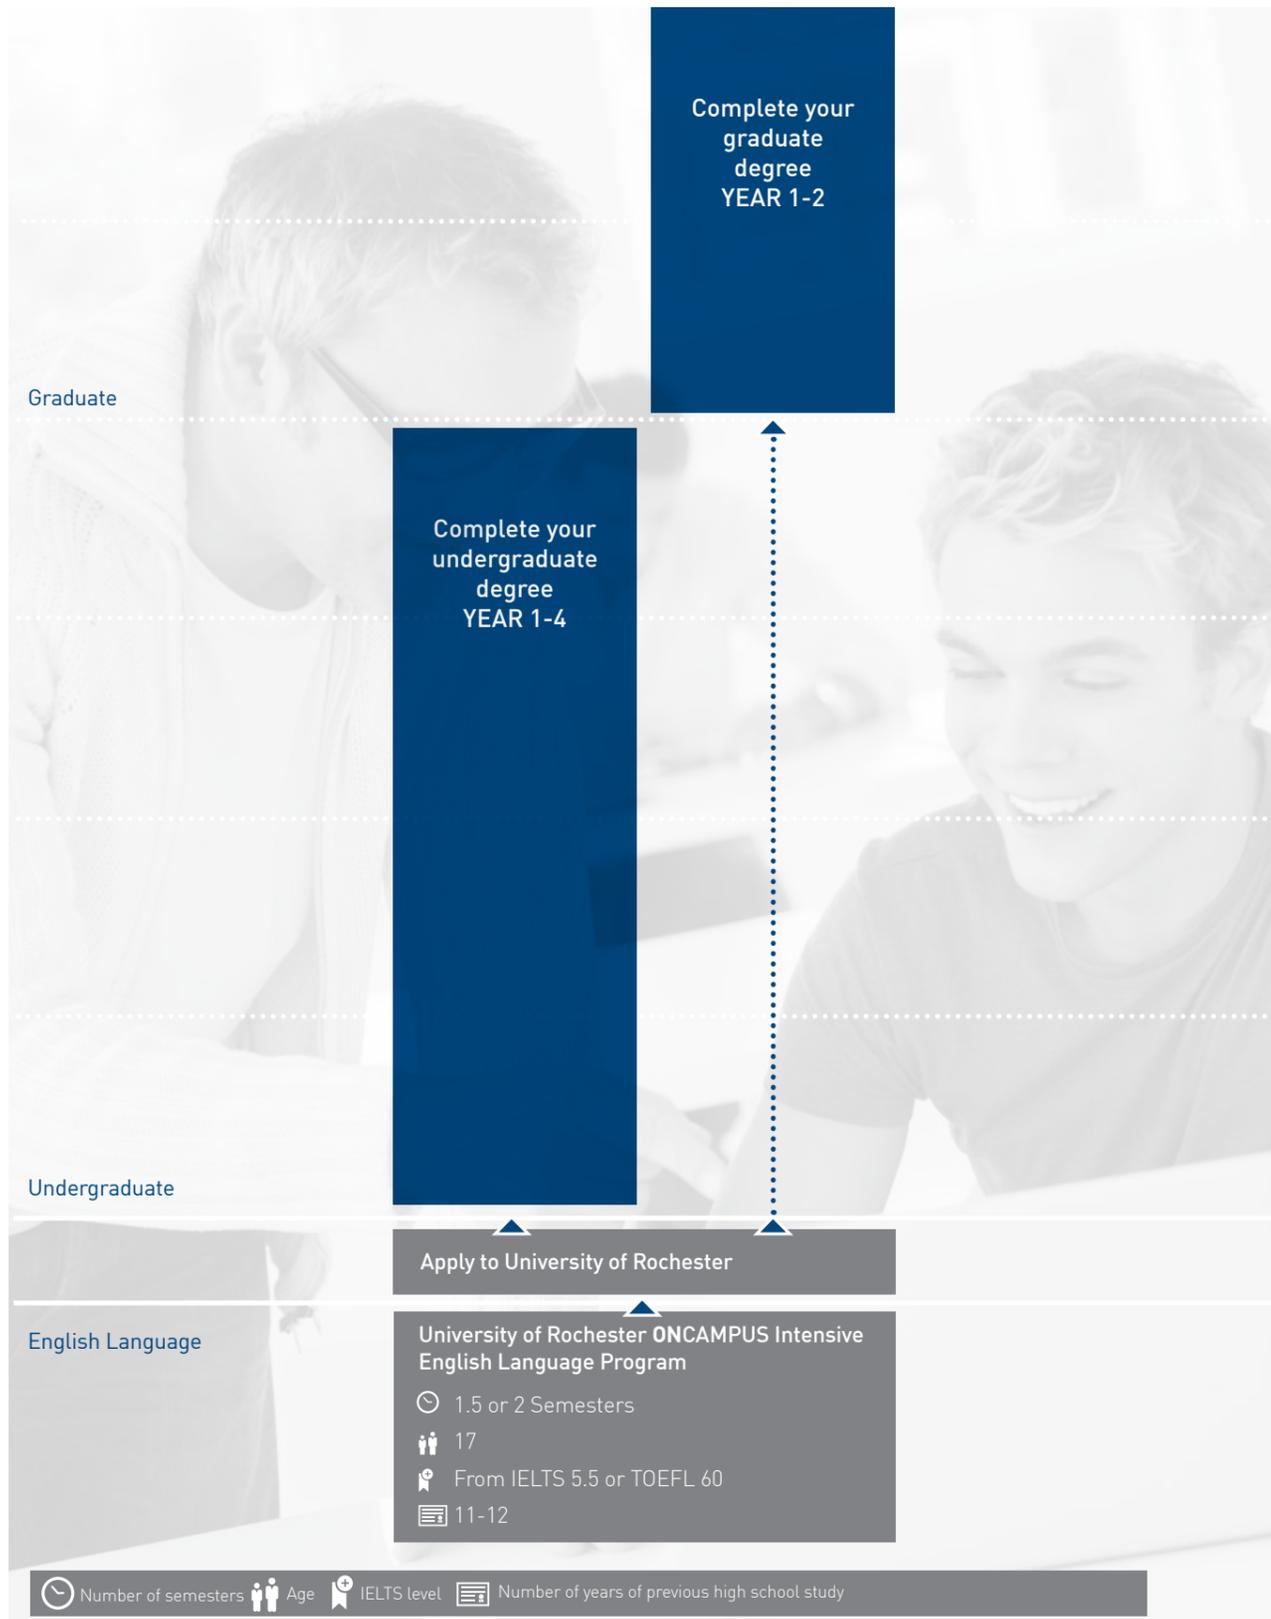

University of Rochester was on the 2014 list of 75 Best Colleges for Food in America by The Daily Meal.
