Fast-track your career in business, marketing, human resource management or finance with an extended course designed to enable third-class degree holders to pursue a postgraduate qualification. Demonstrate your value to employers. Qualify for senior roles with significant responsibility.

These 15 month programmes prepare you for senior roles, your aim is to accelerate your progress towards well-paid positions of leadership. On completion of the first term, you can transfer to a range of postgraduate courses, including:

- MSc International Business Management (15-month)
- MSc Operations and Logistics Management (15-month)
- MA Integrated Marketing Communications (15-month)
- MSc Digital Marketing and Data Analytics (15-month)
- MSc Tourism and Events (15-month)
- MSc Tourism and Hospitality (15-month)
- LLM (15-month)
- LLM Criminal Law & Procedure (15-month)
- LLM International Human Rights (15-month)
- LLM International Law (15-month)
- LLM Commercial Law & International Trade (15-month)

The first term, studied at our partner ONCAMPUS Sunderland, you will take the module 'Introduction to Postgraduate Projects, Research Methods and Study Skills' (PGBM001), which will give you the skills required to undertake a project relevant to your chosen course.

It will also assess your ability to apply your knowledge of the sector, use appropriate analytical skills to investigate a sector-related topic and solve problems.

Why us?

Business, Management and Marketing at the University of Sunderland is best in the North-East of England for satisfaction with the course, teaching and feedback, according to the Guardian University Guide 2017

'World leading' research in Business, according to the Latest Research Excellence Framework

Engage with real-world practice for example, with industry competitions, real life case studies, company visits and the guest speakers programme

Course Structure

The programme normally requires 15 months of full-time study.

Teaching methods include: classes, lectures, seminars, tutorials, group work, directed study, independent learning and will be conducted in and out of the Centre.

Students will be given guided learning hours, but should note that not all of the hours will be conducted in the classroom setting. You will be actively encouraged to research using problem solving and critical thinking skills.

Modules Include

As well as the final award there are two interim awards available to those wishing to leave the course having gained 60 M-level credits (excluding PGBM001) – a postgraduate certificate, or 120 M-level credits (excluding PGBM001) – a postgraduate diploma.

Please refer to the University of Sunderland website for specific module details for each extended route.

Entry requirements

To apply for this course you will need a third-class honours degree, or equivalent.

If you do not meet these requirements, you may exceptionally be considered at the discretion of the programme leader subject to interview.
