Living in LSBU Halls of Residence

You will have the opportunity to meet fellow university students and people from many different backgrounds. The Halls of Residence are safe and certainly good value for money.

Residences

The University has 1,400 single study bedrooms located across four residential buildings offering a variety of standard and en-suite accommodation. All bedrooms are offered on a self-catered basis and situated within self-contained flats. Flats accommodate between 2 and 9 residents depending on the building.

Weekly accommodation costs:

All residence fees are fully inclusive and cover the cost of hot water, heating and lighting. There are no hidden costs. Basic possessions insurance is also included. Accommodation Application Process

At London South Bank FoundationCampus you have three options for accommodation:

- University Halls

Once you have paid the deposit and confirmed your place on the course, you will receive an information pack, including accommodation application forms.

You should then complete the form selecting your preferred accommodation type and return it to the London South Bank FoundationCampus office.

University Halls

Please indicate on the form that you would like to apply for university halls and we will contact you with information about how to make your application.

Indicate this on the form and we will send you a list of private providers.

Private Halls of Residence

Accommodation in London can be rather expensive. Students can live with relatives (usually the cheapest option), rent privately or live in Halls of Residence (on campus). Before choosing where to live during term time, students have to weight the pros and cons of each arrangement available. In some cases students try all three arrangements throughout their time at LSBU.

Staying at Home

Living with relatives usually means no deposits, no rent, and no bills (water, gas, electricity, and internet). However, it can also mean long journeys to and from campus, higher costs in transportation, and less independence.

Renting with a private Landlord/Estate Agent

Renting privately can be very expensive in London, particularly in the centre where transport links are most plentiful. When you are a private tenant you are expected to pay/share bills (gas, electricity, water, etc) except council tax from which students are exempt. You will usually need a large sum for deposit (from 2 to 8 weeks worth of rent), first month rent upfront, and if you are renting from an estate agent, agency fees, inventory, and references checking service.

You need to make sure that the people you are planning to share with are responsible enough to stay at the address until the end of the contract; otherwise you may be left with a large bill. The Accommodation Office has a number of information leaflets available to assist students who require private accommodation, all of which are available either by mail, email or collection from the Accommodation Office.

 - 8.1.2. maintain the Contents in at least as good repair and condition as they are in on the Tenancy Start Date except for fair wear and tear (the inventory we provide you on moving in to the Room shall be evidence of their existing condition, and any defect shall be noted on the inventory in accordance with Clause 4.1.2);

You also agree to pay us a fair and reasonable proportion, as determined by us acting reasonably, of any costs we incur in repairing any damage to the Room or the Flat and/or in replacing any of the Contents of the Room/Flat, which damage is caused by you or your failure to observe and comply with your obligations under this Tenancy Agreement. If there is no evidence to the contrary, then the cost of repairing any such damage or replacing any such Contents shall be apportioned as if:
 - 8.2.1. you caused the damage to the Room (or the Contents of the Room); and
 - 8.2.2. all the tenants of the Flat caused the damage to the shared facilities or Contents in the Flat Common Areas.

9. TENANT CONDUCT

However, we reserve the right to give you notice of our intention to draw on the Security Deposit at any time in payment of any sums due from or spent on behalf of you under the Tenancy Agreement. Where applicable, the Security Deposit, or the relevant amount of the Security Deposit, will be returned to the Tenant following the end of the Tenancy Period.
